CAMP FIRE WEEK proclamation is signed Tuesday afternoon by Mayor J. G. Barry, before this group of Hondo Camp Fire Girls. The Week, March 17 through 23, calls attention to the activities of Camp Fire organizations. Near future plans call for a fund drive, annual carnival, and camp date listing. Girls pictured include [l-r]: Joan Martin, Lorraine Oefinger, Doris Tapia, Melissa Dominguez, Rita Graff, Deena Schur, Terri Reese and Johnette Devers.

Deputy charged with theft of county funds

A Medina County deputy sheriff has been charged with theft of county money in excess of $3,000 and discharged from his position. He is out of jail on his own recoginence.

William Scheel of Devine was charged last week after reportedly admitting he took cash bond money in that amount during 1973. He has made restitution in the amount of $2,732, but as of Friday some $980 was still missing. Scheel allegedly said he took all but $150 of this amount.

The discrepency in the cash bond money showed up in the annual audit and County Judge Jerome Decker notified County Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder. The sheriff called in Texas Ranger Joaquin Jackson who helped investigate. Monday, the Medina County Commissioners Court turned the full investigation over to the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Texas Rangers.

Hitzfelder, who was out of town for several days while picking up escaped prisoner Alfonso Walker in Atlanta, Georgia, returned to Medina County to confront Scheel with the facts on the loss. Following this confrontation restitution was made on the $2,732.

At the same time Hitzfelder requested the auditor check the books from January 1 through March 4 of this year. This audit showed approximately $980 was missing. Ranger Jackson talked with Scheel again Friday and he allegedly confessed to taking all but $150 of that amount.

Scheel has been taking care of the sheriff office books since the death last year of Chief Deputy Floyd Williams. Each year some $75,000 to $80,000 goes through the office in fines and cash bond money. All other funds checked out to the penny according to the auditor.

AROUND THE CORNER

. . . is Museum Celebration time and Frank Graff, Medina County Museum president, tells me they are really searching for items to sell at the Antique Auction on May 5.

If anyone has old items, or just any item they think a collector will buy, they may either donate it to the Museum or let them have it on consignment.

"This is one of our biggest money-makers," Graff said, "and we hope we can get more items this year than we've ever had before."

HONDO'S CHILI COOK

A delegation consisting of Judy and Les schumann, Jake Schuehle, Fred Johnson, Dooley Eckhart [and I know I've left some out] attended the fun fest where they came up with some standard chili-judging rules and regulations.

Anyway, they put out the word on our big Championship Chili Cook held in conjunction with Museum Celebration Days May 4 and 5 -- and from what I hear got a lot of promises, promises, promises.

And speaking of chili cooking! Don't forget the big Chili and Tamale Supper Saturday night for Rep. John Poerner. Let's all get out and give John a real Hondo launch that will carry him all the way to Washington as Congressman of the 21st District.

WARNING LETTERS

. . . have been mailed to parents whose children are still out of classes in the Hondo school system. The letters explain the compulsory attendance laws and the amount of fines for each day of violation.

One name is missing on the list of parents who received the letter. Mrs. Irma Torrez, who according to a suit filed in Federal District Court against Supt. Kenneth Flory, County Judge Jerome Decker and Gov. Dolph Briscoe is chairperson of Familias Unidas, did not receive a letter. I wonder why.

It must be nice to lead other people into a situation where they stand to get fined heavy money and still not have to pay the price yourself.

RAY CORTEZ

. . . wants everyone to know that he and his family are not connected with the boycott of the Hondo schools.

It seems Saturday that a radio announcement used the name Cortez when it should have been Cortinas.

And Ray says it's not so. "I have a hard enough time making a business go without being associated with a movement like that," he said.

In Wednesday hearing

Federal court rules in favor of school

A federal district court judge Wednesday refused to rule that a single member district plan be adopted in the Hondo Independent School District board of trustee elections.

In doing so he ruled against a lawsuit filed earlier last week by three Hondo residents seeking such a plan be adopted in the Hondo district and also requesting that a temporary restraining order stopping the April 6 elections be given.

Plaintiffs in the suit were Chevelle Lopez, Frank L. Garcia Jr. and Rosalinda R. Lopez. Defendants were Supt. Kenneth Flory and members of the school board.

In another suit filed on behalf of the Brown Berets and Familias Unidas the federal court ruled that the plaintiffs would have to do a refiling and request a three judge panel if they wished to continue with the suit.

Members of these two organizations sought continued confidentiality for their members through a move to declare unconstitutional a law which would force disclosure of their membership.

Section 4.28 of the Education Law gives the county judge authority to request any organization that is hindering the peaceful operation of the public schools to file with the county clerk its name, membership, officers, place and times of meeting and whether or not it is part of a parent organization.

It was not known Wednesday if the groups will still have to comply with the letter sent by County Judge Jerome Decker in accordance with Section 4.28.

Tschirhart announces

Leon Tschirhart of Castroville has announced as a candidate for the office of Medina County Commissioner of Precinct 2, subject to the May Democratic Primary.

He is seeking the post being vacated by Hilmer Mangold.

Tschirhart, age 46, is a former successful businessman of 25 years, having pioneered in two fields. His first venture was an Ice House and Drive Inn featuring curb service and was known as Leon's, which he operated for 10 years. He sold this to his brother Sammy, who now operates it as a first class restaurant known as "Sammy's Drive Inn Cafe."

His second venture was liquid fertilizer, a first also for the community. This business was known as Leon's Seed and Fertilizer. It was later incorporated and Leon served as president and board member. Fifteen years were put into this business until it was recently sold to Wm. Terry Tschirhart and is now known as Medina Valley Seed and Feed, Inc.

Letters warn parents about truancy fines

A total of 67 students remained out of the school system Tuesday as the Hondo School Board mailed letters of notice to 33 parents to inform them of the penalties of violating the truancy laws.

The letters said:

". . .In accordance with the provisions of Section 4.25, Texas Education Code, you are hereby warned in writing that attendance at school of---(name of student/students)---must be immediately required by you.

"That section required the attendance officer to file a complaint against you in the county court or in the justice court if you willfully fail to comply after this warning.

"Penalties provided by that section range from a fine of from $5.00 to $25.00 for the first offense up to fines of from $25.00 to $100.00 for third and subsequent offenses. Each day the child or children remain out of school may be considered a separate offense. (Signed) Kenneth Flory, attendance officer, Hondo ISD."

This was the latest move by the School Board to get parents of boycotting students to send them back to school.

A decision on the Board's seeking a permanent injunction against the parents will be made at a later date District Judge Ross E. Doughty said Friday after the two opposing groups met in his district court.

Judge Doughty instructed the attorneys for Familias Unidas to submit a fully written brief on their motion to dissolve the school board's petition by Wednesday (March 13). He then instructed the school board's attorney he would have until Monday to study that brief and answer it in a written brief. At that time the Judge will take both briefs for full study before handing down a decision.

Industrial Week plans are told

Preliminary plans were announced here this week for the observance of Texas Industrial Week in Hondo.

Chairman Larry Oefinger of the Medina Electric Cooperative said letters have been mailed to industries asking them to participate in the event which gives local citizens the opportunity to see and know how industry helps with the local economy.

"We had 21 different exhibits in last year's Texas Industrial Week display," Oefinger said.

He also said the exhibits will again be shown in the Hondo City Municipal Building. "Industries participating in the 1974 event can begin putting up their exhibits early Monday morning April 1," he said. "And they must have them down by Friday noon of that week."

Oefinger is also working with the schools and local industries to see if special events may be arranged for the students during this special week.

"Hondo is fortunate to have the industries it does," Oefinger pointed out. "They made possible our fine school system, and provide jobs for many of our citizens."

FFA barbecue set Saturday

Hondo FFA Chapter members say Saturday is Barbecue time!

They will hold their annual FFA Chicken Barbecue at noon Saturday, March 16, at the high school cafeteria.

Members have been selling tickets but say some will be available at the door for $1.75. All food will be served on a "To-Go" basis.

History holds sway

Sunday is a big day for history in Medina County.

Not only is it "the day" for all the Irish, but it also marks the day for the preservation of county history by dedicating the historical plaque for the Fohn-Bless building in Hondo.

Rocky and Louise Sedgwick, owners of the historic old structure which now houses Bingo Auto Parts have asked State Representative John H. Poerner to be the official speaker at the dedication of the building.

The event is scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Josie Finger of D'Hanis is chairman of the Medina County Historical Survey Committee and said a certificate designating the building as a Recorded Landmark will be presented at the dedication ceremonies.

Aso to be affixed to the building will be a Texas Historical Building Medallion with an interpretive plate giving a capsule history of the structure. This all has been approved by the Texas Historical Commission.

Markings on local historic sites and landmarks is part of the Texas Historical Commission's program of preservation activities and now numbers more than 6,500 official markers.

The inscription on the interpretive plate will read: "Fohn-Bless Store: Store-residence built in D'Hanis about 1878 by John Fohn (1839-91), a native of Prussia. In addition to a general merchantile store, the structure was also the site of D'Hanis elections and justice of the peace court. In 1897, Rolf Frerichs (1833-1913) purchased the building from the Fohn estate and moved it to this location. Frerichs' son-in-law, C. J. Bless (1864-1944), operated a store here until 1939. Medina Electric Cooperative occupied the building until 1963. Recorded Texas Historical Landmark — 1974. Sponsor: R. F. Sedgwick."

The name and location of the new marker will appear in the next edition of the Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers.

Deputy charged with theft of county funds

A Medina County deputy sheriff has been charged with theft of county money in excess of $3,000 and discharged from his position. He is out of jail on his own recoginence.

William Scheel of Devine was charged last week after reportedly admitting he took cash bond money in that amount during 1973. He has made restitution in the amount of $2,732, but as of Friday some $980 was still missing. Scheel allegedly said he took all but $150 of this amount.

The discrepency in the cash bond money showed up in the annual audit and County Judge Jerome Decker notified County Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder. The sheriff called in Texas Ranger Joaquin Jackson who helped investigate. Monday, the Medina County Commissioners Court turned the full investigation over to the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Texas Rangers.

Hitzfelder, who was out of town for several days while picking up escaped prisoner Alfonso Walker in Atlanta, Georgia, returned to Medina County to confront Scheel with the facts on the loss. Following this confrontation restitution was made on the $2,732.

At the same time Hitzfelder requested the auditor check the books from January 1 through March 4 of this year. This audit showed approximately $980 was missing. Ranger Jackson talked with Scheel again Friday and he allegedly confessed to taking all but $150 of that amount.

Scheel has been taking care of the sheriff office books since the death last year of Chief Deputy Floyd Williams. Each year some $75,000 to $80,000 goes through the office in fines and cash bond money. All other funds checked out to the penny according to the auditor.

Federal court rules in favor of school

A federal district court judge Wednesday refused to rule that a single member district plan be adopted in the Hondo Independent School District board of trustee elections.

In doing so he ruled against a lawsuit filed earlier last week by three Hondo residents seeking such a plan be adopted in the Hondo district and also requesting that a temporary restraining order stopping the April 6 elections be given.

Plaintiffs in the suit were Chevelle Lopez, Frank L. Garcia Jr. and Rosalinda R. Lopez. Defendants were Supt. Kenneth Flory and members of the school board.

It was not known Wednesday if the groups will still have to comply with the letter sent by County Judge Jerome Decker in accordance with Section 4.28.

Letters warn parents about truancy fines

A total of 67 students remained out of the school system Tuesday as the Hondo School Board mailed letters of notice to 33 parents to inform them of the penalties of violating the truancy laws.

The letters said:

". . .In accordance with the provisions of Section 4.25, Texas Education Code, you are hereby warned in writing that attendance at school of---(name of student/students)---must be immediately required by you.

"That section required the attendance officer to file a complaint against you in the county court or in the justice court if you willfully fail to comply after this warning.

"Penalties provided by that section range from a fine of from $5.00 to $25.00 for the first offense up to fines of from $25.00 to $100.00 for third and subsequent offenses. Each day the child or children remain out of school may be considered a separate offense. (Signed) Kenneth Flory, attendance officer, Hondo ISD."

This was the latest move by the School Board to get parents of boycotting students to send them back to school.

A decision on the Board's seeking a permanent injunction against the parents will be made at a later date District Judge Ross E. Doughty said Friday after the two opposing groups met in his district court.

Judge Doughty instructed the attorneys for Familias Unidas to submit a fully written brief on their motion to dissolve the school board's petition by Wednesday (March 13). He then instructed the school board's attorney he would have until Monday to study that brief and answer it in a written brief. At that time the Judge will take both briefs for full study before handing down a decision.

Oefinger is also working with the schools and local industries to see if special events may be arranged for the students during this special week.

Letters from the mailbox

Dear Sir:

I applied at the Hondo Court House for license plates for my 1971 1600 pound car. I hate to admit it but I was really taken to the cleaners by that gang. In order to get the plates I had to pay all of the following:

Weighing car on public scale - 50c; even exchange gift or new resident - $15; application for title - 75c; plates - $17.30; Unspecified Charge (tax?) - $1; for a total of $34.05.

After giving the above amounts as cheerfully as possible, I discovered that I didn't have enough money left bo buy a wrench and screwdriver to put the plates on with. I borrowed $2.00 from a girl friend in the old home town so I could hire a mechanic to attach the plates.

Jack Harrison

Dear Editor:

In following this school hassle I have come to the following conclusions:

I believe that we have a fine school plant here. If anyone doesn't believe this, just travel around the state and see if you can find any AA school that have any better plants than we have.

We went to the semi-finals in football in 71 but failed to get anywhere the play on television that about 7% of the Latin American children, who are dissatisfied with our school system are receiving now.

In talking with one of my Latin American friends, a young mother with children in school, she stated that she was well pleased with the school system and grateful for the education she had received there.

In talking with several of my friends we decided that since these (United Families) are so discontented with our school system, we would be most happy to provide them with the gas to get to the Mexican border. We hate to see anyone have to stay in a place they dislike so.

Your friend
Will J. Ney Jr.
902 21st St.
Hondo, Texas

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

I was saddened very much by the letters appearing in the "Letters t the editor" column of the March 7 issue of the Anvil Herald. I am referring specifically to the two letters that were supposedly written by Chicanos. The one statement about there not being "any sort of discrimination" in the days of the segregated Westward School would be laughable if it wasn't so pitiful. My gosh, what has to be done to some people to make them aware of the injustices being perpetrated against them? I mean, if segregation isn't some form of discrimination then what is?

In the same letter which contained the aforementioned statement, there was obvious offense taken to the use of the words Raza and Chicano. Raza interpreted literally does mean "race." But this is not the context in which it is used by Chicanos. To us Raza is more or less a feeling state----a feeling of unity, solidarity. Chicano is not a derivative of "chicero" which is the word for pigsty. "Chicano" may be a shortened form of Mejicano or it may be a combination of two or more words, but that is relatively unimportant. Rather, "Chicano" is significant because it is a name that we gave ourselves. It is not a label given us by Anglo sociologists or historians. There is a certain pride and identification in using this term. Etymology in this case is of minor importance and does not deserve the attention it usually receives.

Another statement in this letter that rankles me is the one that states "We should be proud that we live in a community where all our children are united together in one school and are treated as equal." The idea here being that integrated schools and equal treatment are privileges rather than basic rights for Chicanos in Hondo. In my mind I can hear an Anglo argue, "Those are privileges, boy. If you were in Russia you couldn't do these things." Well in Communist countries they may be privileges, but in the United States they are rights guaranteed by the Constitution and we shouldn't let anyone intimidate us into thinking otherwise.

The letter further goes on to place the current school problems entirely in the laps of the Chicano community. It is disconcerting to see Chicano turn against Chicano like this. Undoubtedly this is a result of a lack of awareness of the problems and of many years of listening to propaganda spewed forth by the dominant Anglo community. This self-blame is typical of most oppressed minorities who find very few outlets for frustration and turn inward in desperation. The old "America, Love It or Leave It" syndrome also reared its ugly head in this particular letter, with the comment that if Chicanos didn't like it in Hondo they could move to Crystal City. Incidentally, this theme also came up in the letter by the "Mexican American Concerned Citizens" when they stated that if Chicanos wanted to celebrate Cinco de Mayo and Diez y Seiz de Septiembre as school holidays they should go to Mexico. It is hard to express the feelings that these intolerant, close-minded statements stir up in me.

The letter by the Mexican American Concerned Citizens asks the question "What is wrong with speaking only English when at school?" There is nothing wrong if that is your native language and part of your cultural heritage. Chicanos aren't trying to replace English with Spanish. We are only seeking not to be punished for manifesting a part of our cultural heritage. Although I cannot generalize for everyone, I, myself, was not hindered in my mastery of English by speaking Spanish in the school playgrounds or among friends. Further, in my interactions with Chicano families, particularly young marrieds with preschool children, I have noticed a tendency on the part of many to make English the primary language and relegate Spanish to a secondary position, to be avoided if at all possible. I got the feeling that they were ashamed of their Mexican cultural and historical background. This shame or negative feeling toward things Mexican has been enhanced through the years by, among other things, rules which punished children for speaking Spanish in school.

This brings me to the point of bi-lingual education. Many educators have denounced bi-lingualism in schools because bi-lingualism is supposedly more of a handicap than an advantage. I have been told on more than one occasion by a professor that bi-linguals are handicapped because they spread out their talents instead of concentrating in one area. I personally think this is a lot of bull! I certainly don't feel at a disadvantage because I can express myself in two or three languages.

If other ethnic groups want literature pertaining to their culture it is their right to petition for them. By asking for Chicano literature, Chicanos are not denying this right to other ethnic groups. But it seems only fair that since Chicanos comprise over 50% of the student body of Hondo schools there should be some area of study that deals with their background. For twelve years I attended Hondo schools and for twelve years I thought that "Mexicans" were cowards when outnumered, cruel when they had the upper hand, they were totally devoid of history, the Alamo was the "Shrine of Texas Glory", and the Texas Rangers could do no wrong. I accepted and digested all the traditional stereotypes. Nowhere in the history books was there a mention of the Chicano contribution to Texas History. Nowhere was there a mention of famous Texas citizens like Gregorio Cortez or Juan Cortina. Nowhere is there any mention as to how the Kings, Armstrongs and Kenedys grabbed the ranch lands they now own. Neither was there any mention of the atrocities committed by the Texas Rangers against Texas citizens of Mexican descent. At this point many may be saying that those things are in the past. To let them be. Let me remind you of the famous quote, "Those who do not learn from the past are condemned to repeat it." It was not until I left Hondo schools that I was made aware that there was another side to the story. At first it was hard to incorporate this new data I was receiving. It was hard to believe that for twelve years the Hondo schools had misled me in the one area that is so important to me. My heritage! But it was true, and it is still true in Hondo as well as in most other schools in South Texas.

The Mexican American Concerned Citizens say that the protestors shouldn't break the rules and regulations of society. But as Thoreau said in Civil Disobedience, if the rules and regulations are not working for the good of all society it is not only the right, but the duty of the people to resist those rules and regulations. Certainly Chicanos are not protesting just for the fun of it when they could face severe social and economic reprisals. Chicanos see something wrong with the schools, something that keeps the majority of Chicanos from succeeding and keeps us repeating again and again the cycle of failing and dropping-out. These valiant protestors in Hondo are not "power-hungry" individuals as you Mr. Lawrence have seen fit to label them. They are concerned parents who only want a decent chance for their children, but who are frustrated at every turn by an arrogant, patronizing school board and community. Mr. Kenneth Flory was quoted as saying in the San Antonio Light that "these people are not representative of our Mexican American community." Are Chicanos in Hondo owned lock, stock, and barrel? This reminds me of the plantation owners in the Old South who used to say that their "niggers" wouldn't cause any trouble by voting because they were good "niggers". This same condenscending manner is prevalent today and fosters many of the attitudes that provoke racial disharmony. It may well be the case that the protestors are not indicative of the Chicano community in Hondo, because if the above referred to letters are any indication of the feeling of Chicanos in Hondo, the Chicano community is surely blind to the injustices and subtle discrimination that fester arund them. I remember during football pep rallies at Hondo High that J. G. Barry used to say that what the Hondo Owls lacked in talent they made up in "intestinal fortitude" or "guts". Well sir, the boycotters are the Hondo Owls of the Chicano community because they have the "guts" to speak out against the wrongs they see.

The Chicano today is proud of his role as an American. Many parents, even those who are illiterate, are determined that their children will not be like them. And they see education as the means. But along with their determination has come a new impatience. Gone is the meek, long suffering of the Mexican American. They are beginning to stand up and make their voices heard. The movement for social justice for the Chicano is spreading through South Texas. Even if the Anglo community in Hondo suppresses the current boycott, the movement will continue. Undoubtedly, the power-play civil action taken by the school district is intended to intimidate Chicanos into refraining from any such future actions. It's the same old arrogant "let's show those uppity meskins whose boss and put them in their place" attitude all over again. If Chicanos in Hondo do not wake up and become indignant about their current economic and social situation they will be known as the Tios Taco of South Texas. The boycotters are the real heroes. Que siga el movimiento!

Victor Rios, Jr.

P.S. If you cannot print this letter because it is too long I will not understand and will immediately start yelling racism and discrimination. No really, all kidding aside, I hope the letter is not too long and that you will be able to accommodate it in the paper.

[Editor's Note: Mr. Rios in all seriousness your yelling racism and discrimination wouldn't bother me a bit. But I feel you have something to say and despite the fact that I personally disagree with much of it, you do have the right to say it. It amazes me that you cannot tolerate someone of your own ethnic group not swallowing your doctrine hook, line and sinker. Immediately they become suspect to having "sold out." Yet, you dare anyone to question your motives, because somehow in conforming to the philosophy of what you call the "Chicano movement," you have become above reproach. It must irk you no end that some Mexican-Americans actually do not want to be called Chicanos. I have no argument on the Mexican heritage. It is something you and everyone else should wear with pride. The language is beautiful and I am envious that I cannot speak it fluently. But I also take pride in the English language. And Americans who can speak both are just that far ahead of me. So I cannot begin to see why the resistance to teaching chil dren to speak the language of the country of which they are citizens. Continue speaking Spanish. That's fine. But give the children an opportunity to grow up with an advantage many of us never have - the ability to speak two languages. And Mr. Rios you can't do it by keeping young students out of school.]

Dear Editor:

As a member of Familias Unidas, I would like to respond to the senseless "certain points" made by those "concerned Mexican-Americans." I will proceed to make statements, comments, and reactions to the letter written on March 7, 1974.

I. There has always been problems in the Hondo Independent School District. You claim that your association with students has never encountered you with such said problems of discrimination. Well your association has been microscopic in range. "Discrimination" does not melt away; it just spreads and changes its form. Do you think that any teacher should call a brown child a "dirty Mexican" just because he is a racist? And who has worked so hard for change? It sure wasn't your group of people who have been conditioned to think white! The workers were the fathers and mothers of the parents of the children who are presently concerned with the educational quality of the Hondo schools.

II. This is a country where freedom of speech is a right. But when classes are not being conducted in English, a student has a right to speak his native tongue. Our children are accustomed to speaking Spanish; it is part of our culture and hertitage of Mejico. When Chicano children are made to feel ashamed, confused, and unsure of themselves because they speak Spanish, well then I protest!

III. The answer you make concerning the dress code is vague indeed. Parents of Chiccano students said they were economically unable to clothe their children the way the school wanted them to do. Tell have you ever bothered to talk with the poor uneducated people in Hondo. Well I have, and the family knows more about what they can or cannot afford for their children than the elitist school board will ever know.

IV. No one has been lying to the School Board about their school problems! The only reason the Hondo Independent School District is intiating the billingual program this coming September is because the law requires them to do so. It is not because they understand or relate to the problems of the Chicano student. One first-grade boycotting student just learned how to spell his name! He was enrolled in Meyer Elementary since September of 73 and the teacher apparently couldn't communicate well enough with this child to show him how to write his name. It was not until one of our certified Chicano teachers took the time and patience to show him how to write.

V. Uncaring teachers can force-feed a child especially if his dark skin erks them. At the Feburary 12th meeting the School Board did not specify what it meant by "encouraging" a student to eat. I still wonder about it myself.

VI. As usual you write before you "think" or "know." When my sister, Juana and I asked permission to visit a classroom, we were denied that privelege. Our intention was to only observe. We were representing mothers from Familias Unidas who could not come visit the McDowell Junior High that day. But Flory said no because he insinuated we were outsiders. Well I have lived 19 years in Hondo and Flory has been only here 3 years.

VII. The hiring system of Chicano teachers and counselors is a slow process. The school looks for Chicanos in places where very few Chicanos are concentrated. Our children were never encouraged to further their education in this district in fact they were discouraged. I remember when the high school teacher would say "take math not algebra." The Chicano girls and guys that were graduating were so unsure of themselves that they wouldn't even take the college entrance exam.

VIII. The majority of students that attend the three Hondo Schools are Chicano. In order for a child to relate to his environment and himself he must be able to find and read books about his own ethnic background.

IX. We know that there are more "strings attached" to declaring holidays. But tell me since when do all students have cattle to display on stock show week? We are proud of our heritage and culture and we also have celebrations with speakers, plays and cultural bizarres to attend.

X. When parents of Chicano students start taking an interest in what is going on, they are accused on being troublemakers. No one is claiming that rules should not be instituted. But make them rules that do not bias any child because of his color. And I don't need to be reminded of killings, rapings, robberies, etc. when they do not apply to the present school problems.

And your comment concerning the Brown Berets is most unnecessary since no bad lanuage was printed. And if slang does appeal to you well that is a matter of preference in this country. The Brown Berets were not saying they wanted anything to be given to them. They were saying you have to work together for change. You miscon-scrued the whole meaning.

The protestors are boycotting students from the Hondo Independent School District. And you know nothing or apparently enough about the leaders of the Familias Unidas to make such outlandish comments. And no violent actions have been taken except for those taken by the teaching staff presently employed in Hondo.

Our protest has been well considered and thought out. And with no violent actions intended for anyone. The students became frustrated with the lack of interest by the school that they walked out and they have continued to boycott classes until the school board agrees to talk about the school problems in relation to discrimination.

Siempre,
Berta Lopez

Dear Editor:

I am a concerned parent and citizen of Hondo. I want to see the Hondo school problem resolved just like anyone but nothing seems to be moving because of the stubborn attitude of Superintendent Flory and some school board members.

However, I would like to respond to a letter that was printed in last week's issue of the Anvil Herald about a resident who claimed 35 years citizenship in Hondo. She said that she had attended school for eleven years. Part of those years were spent at Westward School, a Chicano school.

This misguided person believed there was no discrimination but I and many other Mejicanos from Hondo know different. As an informed member of this community, I would like to take the opportunity to enlighten this person about the true story behind Westward School.

In 1952 I held the position of chairman of the American G.I. Forum in Hondo. During this time the schools were segregated.

The system of schooling went like this: A child would begin school at different places in town depending on the color of his or her skin. If the child was white, he would go to Lacy School. If the child was brown or black, he would to Westward School and Marian Anderson School respectively.

If a Mejicano parent wanted his child to attend Lacy School it was just too bad for that family. The only students that could go there were the white students.

The Westward School was from grades 1-4. After the fourth grade then the Chicano child was allowed to attend Lacy School, but he was still restricted in some way. When a brown child went to the 5th grade in Lacy School, he was not allowed to mix with the white students attending school there. The classes were Segergated! So everyone can figure out who was recieving a more adequate education.

So the number of Chicanos that did get past the Lacy School were very small in number. Those that did go to High School usually flunked or dropped out because of the improper education that they had recieved or because of unnecessary harrassment by school staff.

During 1952 concerned parents came to the members of the American G.I. Forum for help. And we assisted them. It was agreed by parents with children in school that all children regardless of color should be united together. But the whites in Hondo didn't agree. So off we went to Austin to settle the matter in court.

Concerned parents like Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Garcia, Mr. and Mrs. Max Orta, Tonio Garcia, Tomas Santos, Cleto Gonzales, and Mrs. Chuy Dominguez joined the fight in court. Our lawyers Albert Pena Jr. and Richard Casillas defended our cause to unite the schools. The superintendant for the white Hondo schools was J. G. Barry and their lawyer was Hugh Meyer.

The victory was ours in court! The decision by courts was to intergate the Chicano and white schools. So some whites went to Westward School 1-4 and some Chicanos went to Lacy School 1-8.

It was not until a few years later that Meyer School, an elementary school, was built for the convience of the whites on the southside that Westward School was closed down.

Let me say it was not because the white people wanted you there. It was because we had to fight for the change in Hondo! And today it is with these types of problems of discrimination that our young citizens of Hondo are challenging the Hondo Independent School District. It is not to cause trouble, it is to bring needed change in the educational system for the Chicano who constitutes a majority in Hondo.

And coming back to some of the other comments in letter, I would like to say that those words are spoken foolishly.

I have no desire to move to Crystal City. I have lived here most of my life and I intend to stay here because like most other Chicanos that are concerned with the welfare of their people and their community I do not run or hide from any problems.

As a committed and dedicated citizen of Hondo, I would like to challenge all those so-called "concerned citizens" to what they claim they so righteously believe in. How can you communicate with a bunch of invisible and misinformed people.

Sincerely
T. A. Lopez

Council promises paving to Ave. S and T residents

Paving in some areas of town is a cloudy subject when it's dry, but a group of citizens received assurance from the City Council Tuesday night that on the next paving contract their problems will be cleared somewhat.

A group of citizens living on Avenue S and Avenue T asked the Council to pave that area and were assured it would be done in the next paving contract letting.

The citizens in that area have agreed to pay the back taxes on some of the property in the area so that the streets can be paved.

Council also set a deadline of May 1 for all paving and curbing applications to be in City Hall. "This deadline applies to all sections of town," Mayor J. G. Barry explained. "We need to know how much paving must be done before we can let our contract."

In other action, Council awarded a bid for an irrigation pump to Hondo Implement Co. in the amount of $732.

Gene Harrison, manager of the City Electric System, told the Council that electric bills will be higher next month due to an increase in the fuel adjustment charges billed to the City by the San Antonio Public Service Board. He also pointed out that income from the sale of electricity is down this month by some $3,000, using the same month last year as a comparison base.

Letters from the mailbox

Dear Sir:

I applied at the Hondo Court House for license plates for my 1971 1600 pound car. I hate to admit it but I was really taken to the cleaners by that gang. In order to get the plates I had to pay all of the following:

Weighing car on public scale - 50c; even exchange gift or new resident - $15; application for title - 75c; plates - $17.30; Unspecified Charge (tax?) - $1; for a total of $34.05.

After giving the above amounts as cheerfully as possible, I discovered that I didn't have enough money left bo buy a wrench and screwdriver to put the plates on with. I borrowed $2.00 from a girl friend in the old home town so I could hire a mechanic to attach the plates.

Dear Editor:

In following this school hassle I have come to the following conclusions:

I believe that we have a fine school plant here. If anyone doesn't believe this, just travel around the state and see if you can find any AA school that have any better plants than we have.

We went to the semi-finals in football in 71 but failed to get anywhere the play on television that about 7% of the Latin American children, who are dissatisfied with our school system are receiving now.

In talking with one of my Latin American friends, a young mother with children in school, she stated that she was well pleased with the school system and grateful for the education she had received there.

In talking with several of my friends we decided that since these (United Families) are so discontented with our school system, we would be most happy to provide them with the gas to get to the Mexican border. We hate to see anyone have to stay in a place they dislike so.

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

I was saddened very much by the letters appearing in the "Letters t the editor" column of the March 7 issue of the Anvil Herald. I am referring specifically to the two letters that were supposedly written by Chicanos. The one statement about there not being "any sort of discrimination" in the days of the segregated Westward School would be laughable if it wasn't so pitiful. My gosh, what has to be done to some people to make them aware of the injustices being perpetrated against them? I mean, if segregation isn't some form of discrimination then what is?

In the same letter which contained the aforementioned statement, there was obvious offense taken to the use of the words Raza and Chicano. Raza interpreted literally does mean "race." But this is not the context in which it is used by Chicanos. To us Raza is more or less a feeling state---a feeling of unity, solidarity. Chicano is not a derivative of "chicero" which is the word for pigsty. "Chicano" may be a shortened form of Mejicano or it may be a combination of two or more words, but that is relatively unimportant. Rather, "Chicano" is significant because it is a name that we gave ourselves. It is not a label given us by Anglo sociologists or historians. There is a certain pride and identification in using this term. Etymology in this case is of minor importance and does not deserve the attention it usually receives.

Another statement in this letter that rankles me is the one that states "We should be proud that we live in a community where all our children are united together in one school and are treated as equal." The idea here being that integrated schools and equal treatment are privileges rather than basic rights for Chicanos in Hondo. In my mind I can hear an Anglo argue, "Those are privileges, boy. If you were in Russia you couldn't do these things." Well in Communist countries they may be privileges, but in the United States they are rights guaranteed by the Constitution and we shouldn't let anyone intimidate us into thinking otherwise.

The letter further goes on to place the current school problems entirely in the laps of the Chicano community. It is disconcerting to see Chicano turn against Chicano like this. Undoubtedly this is a result of a lack of awareness of the problems and of many years of listening to propaganda spewed forth by the dominant Anglo community. This self-blame is typical of most oppressed minorities who find very few outlets for frustration and turn inward in desperation. The old "America, Love It or Leave It" syndrome also reared its ugly head in this particular letter, with the comment that if Chicanos didn't like it in Hondo they could move to Crystal City. Incidentally, this theme also came up in the letter by the "Mexican American Concerned Citizens" when they stated that if Chicanos wanted to celebrate Cinco de Mayo and Diez y Seiz de Septiembre as school holidays they should go to Mexico. It is hard to express the feelings that these intolerant, close-minded statements stir up in me.

The letter by the Mexican American Concerned Citizens asks the question "What is wrong with speaking only English when at school?" There is nothing wrong if that is your native language and part of your cultural heritage. Chicanos aren't trying to replace English with Spanish. We are only seeking not to be punished for manifesting a part of our cultural heritage. Although I cannot generalize for everyone, I, myself, was not hindered in my mastery of English by speaking Spanish in the school playgrounds or among friends. Further, in my interactions with Chicano families, particularly young marrieds with preschool children, I have noticed a tendency on the part of many to make English the primary language and relegate Spanish to a secondary position, to be avoided if at all possible. I got the feeling that they were ashamed of their Mexican cultural and historical background. This shame or negative feeling toward things Mexican has been enhanced through the years by, among other things, rules which punished children for speaking Spanish in school.

This brings me to the point of bi-lingual education. Many educators have denounced bi-lingualism in schools because bi-lingualism is supposedly more of a handicap than an advantage. I have been told on more than one occasion by a professor that bi-linguals are handicapped because they spread out their talents instead of concentrating in one area. IV. No one has been lying to the School Board about their school problems! The only reason the Hondo Independent School District is intiating the billingual program this coming September is because the law requires them to do so. It is not because they understand or relate to the problems of the Chicano student. One first-grade boycotting student just learned how to spell his name! He was enrolled in Meyer Elementary since September of 73 and the teacher apparently couldn't communicate well enough with this child to show him how to write his name. It was not until one of our certified Chicano teachers took the time and patience to show him how to write.

V. Uncaring teachers can force-feed a child especially if his dark skin erks them. At the Febuary 12th meeting the School Board did not specify what it meant by "encouraging" a student to eat. I still wonder about it myself.

VI. As usual you write before you "think" or "know." When my sister, Juana and I asked permission to visit a classroom, we were denied that privelege. Our intention was to only observe. We were representing mothers from Familias Unidas who could not come visit the McDowell Junior High that day. But Flory said no because he insinuated we were outsiders. Well I have lived 19 years in Hondo and Flory has been only here 3 years.

VII. The hiring system of Chicano teachers and counselors is a slow process. The school looks for Chicanos in places where very few Chicanos are concentrated. Our children were never encouraged to further their education in this district in fact they were discouraged. I remember when the high school teacher would say "take math not algebra." The Chicano girls and guys that were graduating were so unsure of themselves that they wouldn't even take the college entrance exam.

VIII. The majority of students that attend the three Hondo Schools are Chicano. In order for a child to relate to his environment and himself he must be able to find and read books about his own ethnic background.

IX. We know that there are more "strings attached" to declaring holidays. But tell me since when do all students have cattle to display on stock show week? We are proud of our heritage and culture and we also have celebrations with speakers, plays and cultural bizarres to attend.

X. When parents of Chicano students start taking an interest in what is going on, they are accused on being troublemakers. No one is claiming that rules should not be instituted. But make them rules that do not bias any child because of his color. And I don't need to be reminded of killings, rapings, robberies, etc. when they do not apply to the present school problems.

And your comment concerning the Brown Berets is most unnecessary since no bad lanuage was printed. And if slang does appeal to you well that is a matter of preference in this country. The Brown Berets were not saying they wanted anything to be given to them. They were saying you have to work together for change. You miscon-scrued the whole meaning.

The protestors are boycotting students from the Hondo Independent School District. And you know nothing or apparently enough about the leaders of the Familias Unidas to make such outlandish comments. And no violent actions have been taken except for those taken by the teaching staff presently employed in Hondo.

Our protest has been well considered and thought out. And with no violent actions intended for anyone. The students became frustrated with the lack of interest by the school that they walked out and they have continued to boycott classes until the school board agrees to talk about the school problems in relation to discrimination.

Siempre,
Berta Lopez

March 11, 74

Dear Editor:

I am a concerned parent and citizen of Hondo. I want to see the Hondo school problem resolved just like anyone but nothing seems to be moving because of the stubborn attitude of Superintendent Flory and some school board members.

However, I would like to respond to a letter that was printed in last week's issue of the Anvil Herald about a resident who claimed 35 years citizenship in Hondo. She said that she had attended school for eleven years. Part of those years were spent at Westward School, a Chicano school.

This misguided person believed there was no discrimination but I and many other Mejicanos from Hondo know different. As an informed member of this community, I would like to take the opportunity to enlighten this person about the true story behind Westward School.

In 1952 I held the position of chairman of the American G.I. Forum in Hondo. During this time the schools were segregated.

The system of schooling went like this: A child would begin school at different places in town depending on the color of his or her skin. If the child was white, he would go to Lacy School. If the child was brown or black, he would to Westward School and Marian Anderson School respectively.

If a Mejicano parent wanted his child to attend Lacy School it was just too bad for that family. The only students that could go there were the white students.

The Westward School was from grades 1-4. After the fourth grade then the Chicano child was allowed to attend Lacy School, but he was still restricted in some way. When a brown child went to the 5th grade in Lacy School, he was not allowed to mix with the white students attending school there. The classes were Segergated! So everyone can figure out who was recieving a more adequate education.

So the number of Chicanos that did get past the Lacy School were very small in number. Those that did go to High School usually flunked or dropped out because of the improper education that they had recieved or because of unnecessary harrassment by school staff.

During 1952 concerned parents came to the members of the American G.I. Forum for help. And we assisted them. It was agreed by parents with children in school that all children regardless of color should be united together. But the whites in Hondo didn't agree. So off we went to Austin to settle the matter in court.

Concerned parents like Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Garcia, Mr. and Mrs. Max Orta, Tonio Garcia, Tomas Santos, Cleto Gonzales, and Mrs. Chuy Dominguez joined the fight in court. Our lawyers Albert Pena Jr. and Richard Casillas defended our cause to unite the schools. The superintendant for the white Hondo schools was J. G. Barry and their lawyer was Hugh Meyer.

The victory was ours in court! The decision by courts was to intergate the Chicano and white schools. So some whites went to Westward School 1-4 and some Chicanos went to Lacy School 1-8.

It was not until a few years later that Meyer School, an elementary school, was built for the convience of the whites on the southside that Westward School was closed down.

Let me say it was not because the white people wanted you there. It was because we had to fight for the change in Hondo! And today it is with these types of problems of discrimination that our young citizens of Hondo are challenging the Hondo Independent School District. It is not to cause trouble, it is to bring needed change in the educational system for the Chicano who constitutes a majority in Hondo.

And coming back to some of the other comments in letter, I would like to say that those words are spoken foolishly.

I have no desire to move to Crystal City. I have lived here most of my life and I intend to stay here because like most other Chicanos that are concerned with the welfare of their people and their community I do not run or hide from any problems.

As a committed and dedicated citizen of Hondo, I would like to challenge all those so-called "concerned citizens" to what they claim they so righteously believe in. How can you communicate with a bunch of invisible and misinformed people.

Sincerely
T. A. Lopez

Council promises paving to Ave. S and T residents

Paving in some areas of town is a cloudy subject when it's dry, but a group of citizens received assurance from the City Council Tuesday night that on the next paving contract their problems will be cleared somewhat.

A group of citizens living on Avenue S and Avenue T asked the Council to pave that area and were assured it would be done in the next paving contract letting.

The citizens in that area have agreed to pay the back taxes on some of the property in the area so that the streets can be paved.

Council also set a deadline of May 1 for all paving and curbing applications to be in City Hall. "This deadline applies to all sections of town," Mayor J. G. Barry explained. "We need to know how much paving must be done before we can let our contract."

In other action, Council awarded a bid for an irrigation pump to Hondo Implement Co. in the amount of $732.

Gene Harrison, manager of the City Electric System, told the Council that electric bills will be higher next month due to an increase in the fuel adjustment charges billed to the City by the San Antonio Public Service Board. He also pointed out that income from the sale of electricity is down this month by some $3,000, using the same month last year as a comparison base.

We now have one in Hondo if the district judge approves the plan. It seems the "cat burglar" has been in approximately a dozen [that's the number that has been reported] homes since 11th of January. He, or she, has stolen money from purses and billfolds by going into the bedrooms where people are sleeping and taking the money.

On some occasions he has been detected but fled the scene.

City Council Tuesday night approved the idea of a Secret Witness fund and the person who turns in the evidence that will bring about the arrest of the unknown burglar will receive $300.

Complete details can be heard on KRME and will be printed next week in the Anvil Herald.

STAY AT HOME

. . . bargains are offered by some Hondo Merchants this week in a special "Special" advertisement carried on pages six and seven of the Anvil Herald.

This special message will run two weeks as a reminder to local residents that purchases made in Hondo stay here to build our town, our schools, our churches, our organizations and all the other activities in our city.

We urge residents to take advantage of the special prices and remind themselves as they are doing so that they are benefiting personally from the purchases.

Absentee voting to begin Monday

City of Hondo voters will begin absentee balloting Monday for the city elections coming up on April 6, City Secretary Faye Walker announced this week.

All three council spots open this year have contests, with each incumbent seeking re-election and drawing an opponent.

Placement drawings were made this week and ballots will show: Place 3—Jesus Rodriguez, R. D. (Bud) Gwartney (incumbent); Place 4—David F. Cuellar, Hilmer E. Mueller (incumbent); Place 5—Gregorio E. Pedroza (incumbent), Lucio D. Torrez.

Absentee voting will end three days prior to the Saturday, April 6, election.

Poerner kicks off local campaign

Saturday, March 16, is the day for chili and tamale lovers and supporters of Rep. John Poerner for Congress in the 21st Congressional District.

They will all meet at the American Legion Hall at 7:30 p.m. Saturday to enjoy a chili and tamale supper and meet with their candidate.

Billed strictly as a fund-raising event, the supper is expected to attract a large crowd including many former Medina County residents from throughout the 21st District. Tickets are selling for $5 minimum. "But if anyone is interested in good government they may make larger contributions," a spokesman said.

Sponsored by the Committee for John Poerner, Albert Vance chairman, the fund raising rally will officially kick off Poerner's campaign in Medina County.

"Tickets will be available at the door," Allen Lee, who is supervising the event, said. "Anyone interested in a ticket, or wishing to help with the campaign is invited to call Poerner's office at 426-3112 in Hondo."

FACE LIFTING. . .The Medina County Museum is being given a face lifting by the way of a new shingle roof. Woody Glasscock's Gallo Construction Co. underbid other companies by some $1,000 to do the job. Felix Leyva and Corsino Barrientes are the roofing experts on top of the old depot building. All repairs should be completed in time for Museum Celebration Days, slated this year for May 4 and 5. Fun activities and the Champion Chili Cook will be on the 4th and the Antique Auction will be on the 5th. Items are needed for the auction and will be taken either as a donation or on consignment. Museum Day plans take shape

Plans for the May 4 Museum Day are shaping up very good.

There will be a Bread Baking Contest again this year. "We hope to have more homemade bread this year," said Mrs. F. H. Hollmig. She and Mr. Hollmig will serve as chairmen of the Bread Baking Contest.

Further details will be in the Anvil Herald at a later date. Anyone interested in baking bread please contact Mrs. Hollmig. This comment has been made a number of times: "I don't care to have my bread judged." That's fine, just make any amount of bread and tell the committee "not to be judged." A wonderful way to contribute to this worthy cause. There will also be a category for children, 14 years and under.

There will be Food Booths this year. Will also have several new booths and attractions.

May 5th will be the Antique Auction.

Please mark these two days on your schedule and plan to attend.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

P. O. Box 13286 Capitol Station Austin, Texas 78711

by Rep. John Poerner

County government, a traditional strong point of which is the county court, has provided Texans a focal point for their strong belief of self-determined local government.

The "county seat" has long served as the central place where the ordinary citizens get things done to run their county and also "have their day in court" on the county level.

Several proposals made to the Judiciary Committee of the Texas Constitutional Convention alarm me in that they recommend drastic changes in our traditional county court system.

In the Constitutional Revision Commission's proposed document much of the county court would remain the same as it is today, except it would be supervised in a unified judicial system whereby all rules could be established and passed down by a higher court.

I believe that our laws under the present Constitution are adequate as they apply to the conduct of our county and justice of the peace courts. And we do not need a "big brother" court system looking over our shoulders to dictate our every move.

One proposal would even abolish the county court altogether. It would set up a system of district and circuit courts and the head of the county would be an administrator.

Another proposal would give the district courts "appellate jurisdiction and general supervisory control over the Commissioner's Court."

Both are added attempts to erode local control. I think the pendulum has swung too far in that direction already and feel we must strive to reverse that swing so that we can once again have a stronger hand in determining "own destiny" at least where the solution of local problems are concerned.

I feel there are changes that should be made in our judiciary system and I feel confident the Convention will work out these needed changes without making the drastic changes proposed in our local county court system.

CONSTITUTIONALITY. . .speaking Mrs. Regina Mueller of Hondo has had more exposure to the present Texas Constitution than anyone in the county, and many in the state. Mrs. Mueller, who celebrated her 100th birthday on March 2, Texas Independence Day, was two years old when the present Constitution was written. When visited by a Medina County native, Rep. John Poerner who is a delegate involved in re-writing the Constitution, Mrs. Mueller didn't have too much to say on the subject. But spry and alert as she is, Mrs. Mueller could still read the old or new constitution without the use of glasses. [Photo by Father Victor]

Reception to honor Poerners

Plans are complete for an informal reception in Hondo Saturday afternoon honoring Rep. and Mrs. John H. Poerner.

The public is invited to the affair at no charge.

Time for the event will be from 3 to 6 p.m. at the Hondo City Municipal Building with a group of friends hosting.

"Many people have expressed an interest in the 21st Congressional District race, in which Rep. Poerner is a candidate," said a spokesman of the hosting group. "So we are sponsoring this informal reception for everyone to come and meet John and Jo Ann."

Credit Bureau open for your inspection

"Your record at the credit bureau is open for your inspection any time you want to know what is in your file," Mr. and Mrs. Pletz, co-managers of the Credit Bureau Service Center, said today in response to President Nixon's recent message on the Right to Privacy.

According to John L. Spafford, president of Associated Credit Bureaus, Inc., the problem with the publicity given to the issue of privacy and computers is the "broad brush" approach and overgeneralization by the media and government officials to this complex issue.

"For example," Spafford said, "the statement that consumers cannot learn what is in their credit file is false. The law requires credit bureaus to disclose everything in your file and, as a matter of fact, over 1,700,000 disclosures were made by ACB members in 1973.

"The statement," Spafford said, "that credit bureaus collect and disseminate personal information about consumers' morals, characteristics and personal habits is false.

Investigative consumer reporting agencies gather that type of information for insurance companies, but your local credit bureau does not. And it is high time the media and government officials get that point straight."

Spafford said the 2,100 credit bureaus represented by ACB have been "abused by and confused with" investigative reporting ever sincethe privacy issue began making headlines. Credit bureaus, according to Spafford, make full disclosure of sources of information but investigative agencies are not required to disclose sources.

"Your local credit bureau is now and has been operating under a strict federal law since April, 1971 that protects consumer privacy and affords you the right to know what is in your file and to correct or place a statement in your file. If government officials are concerned with personal privacy," Spafford said, "they should turn to other alleged invaders and bring them up to the standards of the local credit bureau."

In some parts of Texas, azalea trails herald spring. Many yards here are abloom with the ruffled pink flowers but no "trails". In 1972, the Houston trail was reported to have attracted 46,146 people and that's a mighty lot of folks to go flower-looking.

I'm wondering if Medina County had enough rains to produce the road-to-road carpets of bluebonnets it does so beautifully, given a cooperative season.

Clifton, Idaho, might be trying to show that "imitation is the sincerest form of flattery." That city has recently posted this highway sign: "This place is like Heaven to us. Don't drive like Hell through it."

Among other warning signs reported by the Texas AAA Motorist are "Drive slowly - one hearse town" [California]; "He looked/She didn't/He is/She isn't" [Arizona]; a Minnesota community says it in Norwegian: "For Sikkerheads skyld brug hvad fornuft du har!", which is said to mean "For safety's sake, use what brains you have."

San Patricio, in San Patricio County, Texas is a long, long way from Tipperary but the old town and county, created in 1836 were actually named for St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland.

Things are a bit more peaceful in Texas than they have been [or still are] in the Land of the Shamrock.

Population statistics do not indicate how many, if any, of the descendants of the original Irish colonists brought there in 1828 by James McGloin and John McMullen remain. But, if there are any, they'll probably be taking an active part in the St. Patrick's Day parade scheduled as part of a two-day celebration March 16-17.

A historic marker, placed over a Nueces County bridge in 1973, as researched by the Nueces County Historical Survey Committee, tells the story.

"Use less and stir longer" is one of the old WWI patriotic slogans that I remember when sugar was in short supply. Comes now the threat of a "sugar crunch."

Omnibus farm bills, subsidies, payment limitations and such terms are words in the news to me but all of them seem to lack the "sweet smell of success" to solve whatever new worldwide crisis they concern.

Congratulations and appreciation to the CYO organizations of Hondo, D'Hanis and Devine who contributed so generously to the Emergency Ambulance Service project.

They took many a weary step but all in the right direction. And, as my old LHS senior class motto still reminds me after 60 years, "No endeavor is in vain; it's reward is in the doing."

I had to look it up in the next-best book to the Good Book to find out what "arcane" lingo meant. The reference was to the assorted vocabulary peculiar to the newspaper [and publishing] business.

One example is "violin," a mood-setting article in front of the section on national affairs. I like "MEGO", an acronym defined as "My Eyes Glaze Over", the cruelest cut of all when a blue-penciling editor thinks the writer has spread the jelly a bit thick, and there goes your deathless prose.

While I was flipping through the "me" columns I discovered me-too, me-too-er and me-too-ism. Honest! These are adjective and nouns to be found on page 534 of Webster's Seventh NC Dictionary.

All have to do with politics - a timely subject. Look 'em up!

Coyotes seem to have become an increasingly controversial subject among land owners, stock raisers, and even well-intentioned do-gooders. I have a file which keeps growing and what I'll do with it, I don't really know.

But maybe the surviving coyotes might be interested.

Filing deadline for the city election will have come and gone by the time this issue gets itself read. Now, determine to VOTE, April 6th.

Up, down the thermostat

When people consider energy conservation at home, their first thought is almost always of a thermostat being turned down to save fuel during the winter months. Although the cold season is almost behind us, the need to manage our energy supply is becoming increasingly important. And, as the weather swings from winter cold to summer heat, we will have to reverse our thinking—turning the thermostat up, not down, to save energy.

According to the Electric Energy Association, it's not too early to get your air conditioning system in shape so that it can do its job more efficiently when the warm weather arrives. In fact, better now than later when servicemen are busy and materials run short.

Cleaning or replacement of a dirty air filter is first on the list of air conditioner preparations. A filter clogged with dust won't let air flow through it. As a result, your air conditioner has to work much longer and harder to provide the cool air you want.

Don't try to do without filters, however. If the filter is not in place to stop airborne dirt, the cooling fins can become clogged with dirt and it's a major job for a repair man to get them clean again.

Make sure motors are oiled. Most window units have bearings on their motors which are lubricated for life. But central units often have two motors which need oil, the one on the blower, and the one on the fan which circulates air over the condenser coils outside the house.

Have your service man check the charge of refrigerant gas in the system. Too much or too little gas in the system can reduce its efficiency drastically and impair the cooling power. Also, have him check the fan belt tension. Power can be transmitted from the motor pulley to the blower most efficiently if the belt tension is correct.

Be sure that the finned surfaces of the condenser (located outdoors) are clean and free of leaves, mud and dirt. To make life even easier for your air conditioner, consider building a fence or planting a tree near the air conditioner to keep it in the shade. When it works cooler, it cools better.

As the warm season approaches, start thinking in terms of keeping the thermostat set a little bit higher than usual. Each extra degree of coolness you require adds about 5 percent to the cost of operating your air conditioner.

With the thermostat set a few degrees higher, and a properly maintained cooling system, you will be doing your share to conserve energy—and you can still be comfortable all summer long.

The bride was given away by her father, Hilmer E. Bendele.

Serving as best man was Mr. Bobby R. Junek of San Antonio. Groomsmen included Gerald Bendele, brother of the bride; Larry Bendele, brother of the bride; William Kaupert, brother-in-law of the groom; and John Miller, all of San Antonio; Steve Oefinger of Quihi, cousin of the bride, and Louis Rothe of D'Hanis, cousin of the bride.

Ushers were William Engelhardt of San Antonio, Donald Balzen of San Antonio, cousin of the bride; Clyde Oefinger of Quihi, cousin of the bride; and Terry Tschirhart of Castroville, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore an A-line high-necked dress with train and cathedral-length veil. The dress was made of dacron polyester organza with imported Peau' d angie Chantilly lace. Her bouquet was made up of white orchids, roses and baby's breath trimmed with blue ribbons.

Bridesmaids wore light blue merrimist dresses, embroidered with white flowers over blue taffeta. Their dresses were trimmed with white velvet ribbon. Each carried a bouquet of large white mums trimmed with light blue ribbons.

The altar was decorated with white gladiolas and blue mums. Music during the service was provided by members of the St. Cecelia's choir.

Following the ceremony a reception, dinner and dance were given by the parents at the Knights of Columbus Hall in San Antonio.

Fuel Shortages Make Everyone Stay Close To Home — That's Why . . .

March Savings PLUS!

City Sales Tax Totals $283,964.57 in 5 Years.

In April 1968, Hondo citizens voted a City Sales Tax of 1 cents on the dollar.

Since that date purchases of taxable items in the city of Hondo have resulted in the City receiving $283,964.57.

This money goes into the general fund to help operate the city and has very possibly in the past five years helped prevent an increase in city taxes.

The sales tax total received by the city has increased every year with 1973 taking a big jump over 1972.

Only three months of taxes were collected in 1968 so the first check received by the city was $9,913.61. Since that time the annual totals have reached: 1969 ($47,402.52); 1970 ($53,067.66); 1971 ($56,735.77); 1972 ($63,626.60).

The City of Hondo has not received the check for the last quarter of 1973, but it should send the annual total to a record breaking amount. For the first three quarters the total reached $53,428.27. The final two checks were over $18,000, which means the fourth quarter check should exceed that amount. This would run the annual amount to more than $80,000.

ALL OF THIS MEANS ONE THING — MORE PEOPLE BOUGHT IN HONDO IN 1973 THAN IN THE PAST FIVE YEARS. AND THE MORE THEY BUY HERE THE MORE TAXES THEY ADD TO THE CITY GENERAL FUND — AND THE LESS CHANCE THEY HAVE OF EXPERIENCING A GENERL TAX INCREASE.

City Sales Tax Totals $283,964.57 in 5 Years.

In April 1968, Hondo citizens voted a City Sales Tax of 1 cents on the dollar.

Since that date purchases of taxable items in the city of Hondo have resulted in the City receiving $283,964.57.

This money goes into the general fund to help operate the city and has very possibly in the past five years helped prevent an increase in city taxes.

The sales tax total received by the city has increased every year with 1973 taking a big jump over 1972.

Only three months of taxes were collected in 1968 so the first check received by the city was $9,913.61. Since that time the annual totals have reached: 1969 ($47,402.52); 1970 ($53,067.66); 1971 ($56,735.77); 1972 ($63,626.60).

The City of Hondo has not received the check for the last quarter of 1973, but it should send the annual total to a record breaking amount. For the first three quarters the total reached $53,428.27. The final two checks were over $18,000, which means the fourth quarter check should exceed that amount. This would run the annual amount to more than $80,000.

ALL OF THIS MEANS ONE THING — MORE PEOPLE BOUGHT IN HONDO IN 1973 THAN IN THE PAST FIVE YEARS. AND THE MORE THEY BUY HERE THE MORE TAXES THEY ADD TO THE CITY GENERAL FUND — AND THE LESS CHANCE THEY HAVE OF EXPERIENCING A GENERL TAX INCREASE.

Wildlife Photography Seminar

The well-known wildlife photographer, Perry Shankle Jr. of San Antonio, will conduct the fourth annual Wildlife Photography Seminar at the Hill Country Arts Foundation in Ingram, Saturday, March 23.

Involving an afternoon and an evening session, the seminar will include discussions of all aspects of wildlife photography -- equipment, film types, techniques, where and how to sell pictures, landowner liaison, and others. There will also be a critique of students' slides.

A total of $17.50 is being charged for the seminar, and will include the evening meal.

The class is limited to 25 to insure that it can be kept on a personal basis. All previous Shankle seminars have quickly reached the maximum enrollment, so early registration is essential as this is the only workshop he conducts each year.

In addition to his reputation as one of the Southwest's most outstanding wildlife photographers, Shankle is rated an excellent teacher, with a friendly, easy manner which blends perfectly with his knowledge of nature photography. His photos have appeared in "Texas Parks & Wildlife," "Field & Stream," "San Antonio Magazine," "Argosy," and True's "Hunting Yearbook." Some of his work has been included in the National Geographic hard-bound series on endangered species.

Those interested may obtain more information by writing the HCAF, Box 176, Ingram, Tx. 78025. Adance registration is required.

Community Audit to help in attracting industry

Publication of the Hondo Community Audit has been announced by the Hondo Chamber of Commerce to aid the city in its search for new industry.

Approximately 3,000 of the four page pamphlet were printed by the Industrial Liaison Committee of the Chamber. Larry Oefinger of Medina Electric Cooperative heads the committee.

"We receive many requests for statistical information on Hondo and the immediate area," Oefinger said this week. "Such a publication will be very helpful in getting our story out."

The publication includes much information on the city such as tax rates, electric and gas rates, labor force statistics, weather averages, population, transportation, industries, agricultural activities housing, insurance ratings, community services, education facilities and listings of activities throughout the year.

Such a publication can be utilized in several ways, but the main reason for it being printed was to help in the task of attracting industry. "Most industries that contemplate moving to a new area need this type of information right at the beginning," Oefinger said.

"Once they have this, they can go from there as far as visiting the city and seeking other data is concerned."

AMZOIL Synthetic Motor Oil

What Does It Mean?

- It means a lubricating substance synthesized from fatty acids and Isopropyl Alcohol. AMZOIL®, a diester instead of a hydrocarbon, is more tightly bonded than petroleum motor oils. It can't break down to form sludge, gum or varnish.
- It means 25,000 miles or one year between changes. AMZOIL® can't be fouled by Chemical Reactions with exhaust gases, so there's no sludge to be carried by the oil.
- It means 12% higher gas mileage, 6% higher horsepower. These figures are averages based on AMZOIL'S® high film strength — over 6 times higher than petroleum oils. This means it clings to metal parts to cause less friction ... less wear ... more power.
- It means AMZOIL® can actually clean your engine while it works. AMZOIL® is a high detergent oil, which can actually remove tar and sludge from your engine's interior. It can reduce and/or eliminate gummy rings, sticky lifters, and varnish-glazed seals and piston walls. AMZOIL® can also restore neoprene gaskets — won't shrink cork gaskets.
- It means faster, easier starts in all weather. Petroleum 10W-40 Oil has a lubrication range of 0° to +300° F. AMZOIL'S® range is from -60° to 400° F. AMZOIL® can help save your battery through easier starts.
- It means AMZOIL® is warranted. A recognized automotive testing laboratory certified it exceeds all automobile manufacturers' warranty requirements" — using AMZOIL® will not violate or nullify your engine's warranty.
- It means that at $3.50 per quart, AMZOIL® can save you money. Most petroleum oil manufacturers recommend oil change every 3 months or 3,000 miles. AMZOIL'S® 25,000 mile range lets you save up to $20 on oil changes (based on petroleum oil at 95c per quart, 5 quarts, 8 oil changes).
- It means AMZOIL® just may be the world's finest engine lubricant ever developed, for these reasons and more.

Poerner sees convention falling far behind planned 90 days

As work progresses day-by-day at the Constitutional Convention, I am detecting a growing feeling among the delegates that the convention is falling hopelessly behind the original 90-day schedule that was originally contemplated.

I think there are two main causes for the delay. One, the committees are being subjected to hour after hour of testimony and debate which in many cases is of a completely repetitive nature. Two, when committee reports reach the floor, debate proceeds as if there had not been weeks of committee work at all, and delegates debate the issues from scratch all over agaan.

This, at least, has been the case during convention floor consideration of Article VII, the very important education article. Many amendments to the article were prepared in haste on the floor, sometimes even written on the backs of envelopes. Compromises were struck at hurried late night meetings. I feel personally that a document as significant as a new constitution, which may stand for decades, should not be prepared in such fashion.

Another personal concern of mine is the tendency of many delegates to forget that they are delegates to a constitutional convention and vote as if they were still acting as legislators representing particular districts. I certainly understand how this occurs, and frequently have to remind myself that I am here at this time to represent all of the people of Texas, and probably their children and grandchildren as well. This is certainly not the time for us to let parochial benefits to our individual districts override our judgment as to what is best for the state as a whole.

I have also become aware of a disturbing trend toward erosion of local control in several of the provisions we have considered. This emerged specifically during debate on certain portions of the section dealing with public education. I personally fought hard to see that local enrichment programs be permitted under the new constitution, and will fight again whenever necessary to preserve local control of those institutions and programs which properly belongs at that level.

We also had a hard struggle to obtain constitutional funding for our state colleges and universities which do not fall under jurisdiction of the University of Texas or Texas A&M systems. I feel very strongly that our regional institutions of higher education should be assured of predictable financing so that they may plan efficiently to meet the needs of our students in coming years. I think this fight will be resolved satisfactorily.

My overriding feeling is that as sometimes rancorous debate continues on many controversial issues, our chances of the new constitution ultimately receiving the approval of the people of Texas are proportionately reduced. Delegate (and State Senator) John Traeger has proposed that general sessions of the convention be halted until all substantive committees have completed their work, at which time the convention would recess for a period of weeks so that delegates may have time to study all of the proposals thoroughly before being required to cast their very important votes. This procedure would also permit the delegates to return to their home areas and determine just how the people feel about many of the issues.

Our experiences of the past weeks lead me to believe Delegate Traeger has a sound plan, and I hope it comes to pass. I sincerely feel that the state as a whole will benefit from some unhurried consideration and research by the delegates.

HONDO YOUTH. . .were among top winners in 29 counties that make up District VII, Texas Garden Club, Inc. Woodsy Owl, Smokey Bear and Youth Communication poster contest. He is also vice-president of Medina Valley All Sports Booster Club and is very active in the Medina Valley Band Boosters Organization.

Tschirhart has also devoted approximately five years of developing a new Perpetual Care Cemetery for St. Louis Church and also renovating the older cemetery to places of greater beauty. He plans to devote about five more years to this project or until its completion. He was also instrumental in developing Koenig Park and is presently a board member of Koenig Foundation.

The candidate does not plan to set forth a formal platform. Instead, he will visit as many voters in the precinct as possible before the primary for their ideas on needed improvements.

He is married to the former Genny Keller, and they have four children, three girls and a boy, three of whom are students in the Medina Valley School District. Their oldest daughter is a student at Southwest Texas State University at San Marcos.

Tschirhart is the grandson of a former Medina County commissioner, August X. Tschirhart. His grandfather held the post for 18 years.

Tschirhart notes since he has sold his business he will be able to devote his full time to Commissioner when elected, and still be active in civic, church and school projects.

The candidate said, "I sincerely ask for the vote and support of all residents of Precinct 2. In turn, I pledge to work for the betterment of the area."

As work progresses day-by-day at the Constitutional Convention, I am detecting a growing feeling among the delegates that the convention is falling hopelessly behind the original 90-day schedule that was originally contemplated.

I think there are two main causes for the delay. One, the committees are being subjected to hour after hour of testimony and debate which in many cases is of a completely repetitive nature. Two, when committee reports reach the floor, debate proceeds as if there had not been weeks of committee work at all, and delegates debate the issues from scratch all over agaan.

This, at least, has been the case during convention floor consideration of Article VII, the very important education article. Many amendments to the article were prepared in haste on the floor, sometimes even written on the backs of envelopes. Compromises were struck at hurried late night meetings. I feel personally that a document as significant as a new constitution, which may stand for decades, should not be prepared in such fashion.

Another personal concern of mine is the tendency of many delegates to forget that they are delegates to a constitutional convention and vote as if they were still acting as legislators representing particular districts. I certainly understand how this occurs, and frequently have to remind myself that I am here at this time to represent all of the people of Texas, and probably their children and grandchildren as well. This is certainly not the time for us to let parochial benefits to our individual districts override our judgment as to what is best for the state as a whole.

I have also become aware of a disturbing trend toward erosion of local control in several of the provisions we have considered. This emerged specifically during debate on certain portions of the section dealing with public education. I personally fought hard to see that local enrichment programs be permitted under the new constitution, and will fight again whenever necessary to preserve local control of those institutions and programs which properly belongs at that level.

We also had a hard struggle to obtain constitutional funding for our state colleges and universities which do not fall under jurisdiction of the University of Texas or Texas A&M systems. I feel very strongly that our regional institutions of higher education should be assured of predictable financing so that they may plan efficiently to meet the needs of our students in coming years. I think this fight will be resolved satisfactorily.

My overriding feeling is that as sometimes rancorous debate continues on many controversial issues, our chances of the new constitution ultimately receiving the approval of the people of Texas are proportionately reduced. Delegate (and State Senator) John Traeger has proposed that general sessions of the convention be halted until all substantive committees have completed their work, at which time the convention would recess for a period of weeks so that delegates may have time to study all of the proposals thoroughly before being required to cast their very important votes. This procedure would also permit the delegates to return to their home areas and determine just how the people feel about many of the issues.

Our experiences of the past weeks lead me to believe Delegate Traeger has a sound plan, and I hope it comes to pass. I sincerely feel that the state as a whole will benefit from some unhurried consideration and research by the delegates.

JV track team takes second at Pearsall meet

Hondo's Junior Varsity track team amassed 101 points in Pearsall last weekend, only not quite enough to catch the host Pearsall team at 143 points. Hondo took the second place trophy, though.

They were aided by two first place finishes, in the 440-yard relay and the 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

The 440 team ran the distance in 48.3 seconds.

The 880-yard run saw Hondo take 4th, 5th and 7th places. David Knowles was fourth at 2:16.9, followed closely by Orlando Reyes in fifth. In seventh was Tim Gilliam.

Hondoans took second and fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles. Blake Boehle was second with 17.8 while Lupe Contreras was fourth.

The 100-yard dash saw Hondo take 2nd, 4th and 6th places. Roy Carmona was second at 11.1 while Rusty Haile and Tony Tellez took the 4th and 6th slots.

Clay Braden was fourth in the 440-yard dash at 59.1 while Ricky Dominguez finished 5th at 62.5.

Lupe Contreras was in first place in the 330-yard hurdles with a 45.9 time, and Blake Boehle was in second at 46.4.

The 220-yard dash saw Carmona in second place at 25.7 seconds, followed by Garcia in fourth place at 26.0 seconds.

Johnny Cuellar took 5th place in the mile run at 5:46, and the mile relay team of Rusty Haile, David Knowles, Tony Tellez, and Garcia finished 3rd at 4 minutes even.

JV track team takes second at Pearsall meet

Hondo's Junior Varsity track team amassed 101 points in Pearsall last weekend, only not quite enough to catch the host Pearsall team at 143 points. Hondo took the second place trophy, though.

They were aided by two first place finishes, in the 440-yard relay and the 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

The 440 team ran the distance in 48.3 seconds.

The 880-yard run saw Hondo take 4th, 5th and 7th places. David Knowles was fourth at 2:16.9, followed closely by Orlando Reyes in fifth. In seventh was Tim Gilliam.

Hondoans took second and fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles. Blake Boehle was second with 17.8 while Lupe Contreras was fourth.

The 100-yard dash saw Hondo take 2nd, 4th and 6th places. Roy Carmona was second at 11.1 while Rusty Haile and Tony Tellez took the 4th and 6th slots.

Clay Braden was fourth in the 440-yard dash at 59.1 while Ricky Dominguez finished 5th at 62.5.

Lupe Contreras was in first place in the 330-yard hurdles with a 45.9 time, and Blake Boehle was in second at 46.4.

The 220-yard dash saw Carmona in second place at 25.7 seconds, followed by Garcia in fourth place at 26.0 seconds.

Johnny Cuellar took 5th place in the mile run at 5:46, and the mile relay team of Rusty Haile, David Knowles, Tony Tellez, and Garcia finished 3rd at 4 minutes even.

Track team takes trophy

After less than two years of competing, Hondo established itself as a major track power in the area Saturday as the Varsity thinclads outpointed all comers to win first place in Pearsall's Maverick Relays. The Junior Varsity finished second, edged out by host Pearsall.

Last week, Hondo finished second at Devine's Warhorse Relays while the JV's won the trophy in their part of that event.

District teams are unbelievably close in ability, too. Hondo's win this week was with 114 points, compared to 106 5/6 for Carrizo and 98½ for Devine.

So, it looks like the District meet on April 5 will be an event to remember and Hondo has as good a chance as anyone to win that one, too.

Meanwhile, there's another invitational tournament this weekend in Kerrville. Only the Varsity will be competing there, but the action promises to be exciting, and it will come off on Friday, March 15.

Hondo took first place in several events last Saturday—among them the 440-yard relay, 120-yard hurdles, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and mile relay.

The 440 team took first place with a time of 45.2 seconds. In the 880-yard dash, Hondo's Sinon Valdilles took fifth place.

In the hurdle event, Paul Pope edged out brother Eddie Pope by a tenth of a second. The two finished first and second in the 120's, 16.0 and 16.1.

The 330-yard hurdles saw Paul again take first place with 44.9. Once again, Eddie was second at 45.0.

Another Hondo rivalry came in the short dashes, as Gene McAnelly took first in the 100-yard dash with a 10.2 while Bobby Cox was second with 10.25. The 220-yard dash saw Cox turn the tables and take first at 23.5 while Gene was second at 23.6.

Volleyballers down MV, Devine

By Rhonda Graff

Hondo's A and B teams won matches on March 5, defeating the Panthers of Medina Valley, according to Mrs. George Riddell, coach.

The B team won their matches 15-4 and 15-12.

Scoring for these two games was as follows: Nanny Tapia, 13 points; Aurora Morin, 10; Eva Escamilla, 4; Diane Gonzales, 2; and Karen Alexander, 1 point.

The A team continued the winning steak by downing the Panthers 15-10 and 15-4.

Scoring for the varsity were: Karen Reinartz, 10 points; Nancy Lange, 8; Sandy Garcia, 5; Tina Haby, 4; and Lucy Garcia, 3 points.

Players not scoring but doing a terrific job on defense were Teresa Winn and Glenda Raymond of the varsity.

The Jr. High team lost to the Panthers 3-15 and 8-15.

Scorers for the Jr. High were: Debbie Young, 3 points; Michele Pope, 2; Anna Reyes, 3; Rosalinda Gauna, 2; and Jo Stickney, 1 point.

The Jr. High team was competing against Medina Valley's second string B team.

Junior High teams met first with Hondo winning the match 15-8 and 15-7.

B-teams followed the Jr. High action and Devine took the first of these 15-7. Hondo came back in the second and third contests by 15-12 scores.

And in the Varsity action Devine wiped out the Hondoans 15-3 in the first game. Hondo rallied in the second round to win 15-7. In the clincher, it was Hondo on top, 15-13 as Hondo won the series.

Today Medina Valley is in Hondo for Varsity and B-team action beginning at 5 p.m. in the High School gymnasium.

Owls take second in County Tourney

The Hondo Owl Baseball team had a full schedule over the weekend and early this week.

Thursday and Friday came the Medina County Tournament hosted by Hondo.

In the first round of that tourney, Devine was downed 7-4 by Medina Valley. Hondo came up against D'Hanis in the late game Thursday.

Hondo had 13 runs on the D'Hanis Cowboys before an out could be made in the first inning. From there it was a stalemate until the bottom of the seventh when D'Hanis rallied for 5 runs of its own. Final score, 13-5 Hondo.

Gordon Bohmfalk took the win for Hondo, though he was relieved by Bob Spears in the fourth inning. D'Hanis starter Bobby Joe Rothe did not last through the first inning before being lifted for Eric Rothe, but he absorbed the loss. Hondo collected ten hits, to six for D'Hanis.

In the second round Friday afternoon Medina Valley jumped to an early 3-0 lead to win over the Owls and take home the trophy.

David DeCock picked up the win for the Panthers while Hondo starter Tony Muniz took the loss, Raul Dominguez pitched the final two innings for the Owls and did not give up a run.

Third place was taken by D'Hanis, who rallied for a 4-2 win over Devine. Bobby Joe Rothe was the winning pitcher in that contest.

Fredericksburg

Monday afternoon the Owls lost their second consecutive game of the season by a close 1-0 score. The Billies came up with a run in the second inning, then held on tight to take the win. And that run was a fluke as pitcher Raul Dominguez was knocked down in a run-down between third base and home and dropped the ball. As he dropped the ball, the run scored.

Hondo managed only two hits off Fredericksburg pitching, and Dominguez and reliever Tony Muniz allowed the winners only four hits.

Bandera

Tuesday night the Owls sprang back with a 5-3 win over Bandera on the Hondo diamond.

Bob Spears pitched a one-hitter, while walking only one and striking out six Bulldog batters.

Gene McAnelly led the Owls' 13-hit attack with three, including a triple. Mike Groff had two doubles, and both Alex Mendoza and Steve Mueller each had two hits for Hondo.

The Owls will be in Uvalde today to take part in the Uvalde Invitational Baseball tournament.

Little League seeks more players

"We need more players for the Hondo Little League and Senior Leagues," says League President Albert Rowlett after last Monday night's initial sign-up session.

About 40 boys signed up at the first session held in the Meyer Cafeteria Monday night. Next Monday (March 18) another such session will be held for the purpose of signups, so that managers will know how many teams to play for. That meeting will also be in the meyer Cafeteria, and is set for 7:30 p.m.

If a player or parent is unable to attend this next meeting, signups will still be continuing until March 22, the deadline. To sign the roster, either attend the meeting Monday or call Mrs. Frances Lynch, Mrs. Mary Laughinghouse or Albert Rowlett.

Tryouts will be held on schedule March 23, with a managers meeting on March 25.

Additionally, cards were mailed out recently for donations to help keep the little league program going in Hondo. Any donations are sincerely appreciated by the League. If you received a card, please return it promptly. If you did not, you are still invited to contribute.

D'HANIS BASEBALL

The D'Hanis Cowboys will be in Carrizo Springs this weekend to participate in the Carrizo Springs Invitational Baseball Tournament. First game is 10 a.m. Thursday.

Golfers score two 2nd places

Hondo High School golfers had a busy weekend, taking two second places, both to Uvalde.

Friday it was at Uvalde Memorial Golf Course, where Hondo joined Uvalde, Crystal City, Utopia and Carrizo Springs in a tournament. In the strong winds, Hondo took second place.

Saturday the Owl players were in home territory for their own invitational tourney this time including Uvalde, Devine, Crystal City, Medina Valley, Pearsall, Hebbronville and Laredo United.

Uvalde again posted the winning score, a 317 total. Hondo was second at 323.

A tie resulted for third place when Devine and Crystal City posted identical 341's, and Medina Valley finished fifth at 346.

Hondo's Randall Hare shot a 75 to share medalist honors with Uvalde's Paul Bracher.

Saturday the Owls will be in Devine for another pre-district invitational.

The district meet, by the way, will be here in Hondo on March 25.

Track team takes trophy

After less than two years of competing, Hondo established itself as a major track power in the area Saturday as the Varsity thinclads outpointed all comers to win first place in Pearsall's Maverick Relays. The Junior Varsity finished second, edged out by host Pearsall.

Last week, Hondo finished second at Devine's Warhorse Relays while the JV's won the trophy in their part of that event.

District teams are unbelievably close in ability, too. Hondo's win this week was with 114 points, compared to 106 5/6 for Carrizo and 98½ for Devine.

So, it looks like the District meet on April 5 will be an event to remember and Hondo has as good a chance as anyone to win that one, too.

Meanwhile, there's another invitational tournament this weekend in Kerrville. Only the Varsity will be competing there, but the action promises to be exciting, and it will come off on Friday, March 15.

Hondo took first place in several events last Saturday—among them the 440-yard relay, 120-yard hurdles, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and mile relay.

In the hurdle event, Paul Pope edged out brother Eddie Pope by a tenth of a second. The two finished first and second in the 120's, 16.0 and 16.1.

The 330-yard hurdles saw Paul again take first place with 44.9. Once again, Eddie was second at 45.0.

Another Hondo rivalry came in the short dashes, as Gene McAnelly took first in the 100-yard dash with a 10.2 while Bobby Cox was second with 10.25. The 220-yard dash saw Cox turn the tables and take first at 23.5 while Gene was second at 23.6.

Gary Haass took fourth place in the mile run. Rudy Tapia added some points with sixth place.

Owls take second in County Tourney

The Hondo Owl Baseball team had a full schedule over the weekend and early this week.

Thursday and Friday came the Medina County Tournament hosted by Hondo.

In the first round of that tourney, Devine was downed 7-4 by Medina Valley. Hondo came up against D'Hanis in the late game Thursday.

Hondo had 13 runs on the D'Hanis Cowboys before an out could be made in the first inning. From there it was a stalemate until the bottom of the seventh when D'Hanis rallied for 5 runs of its own. Final score, 13-5 Hondo.

Gordon Bohmfalk took the win for Hondo, though he was relieved by Bob Spears in the fourth inning. D'Hanis starter Bobby Joe Rothe did not last through the first inning before being lifted for Eric Rothe, but he absorbed the loss. Hondo collected ten hits, to six for D'Hanis.

In the second round Friday afternoon Medina Valley jumped to an early 3-0 lead to win over the Owls and take home the trophy.

David DeCock picked up the win for the Panthers while Hondo starter Tony Muniz took the loss, Raul Dominguez pitched the final two innings for the Owls and did not give up a run.

Third place was taken by D'Hanis, who rallied for a 4-2 win over Devine. Bobby Joe Rothe was the winning pitcher in that contest.

Fredericksburg

Monday afternoon the Owls lost their second consecutive game of the season by a close 1-0 score. The Billies came up with a run in the second inning, then held on tight to take the win. And that run was a fluke as pitcher Raul Dominguez was knocked down in a run-down between third base and home and dropped the ball. As he dropped the ball, the run scored.

Hondo managed only two hits off Fredericksburg pitching, and Dominguez and reliever Tony Muniz allowed the winners only four hits.

Bandera

Tuesday night the Owls sprang back with a 5-3 win over Bandera on the Hondo diamond.

Bob Spears pitched a one-hitter, while walking only one and striking out six Bulldog batters.

Gene McAnelly led the Owls' 13-hit attack with three, including a triple. Mike Groff had two doubles, and both Alex Mendoza and Steve Mueller each had two hits for Hondo.

The Owls will be in Uvalde today to take part in the Uvalde Invitational Baseball tournament.

Little League seeks more players

"We need more players for the Hondo Little League and Senior Leagues," says League President Albert Rowlett after last Monday night's initial sign-up session.

About 40 boys signed up at the first session held in the Meyer Cafeteria Monday night. Next Monday (March 18) another such session will be held for the purpose of signups, so that managers will know how many teams to play for. That meeting will also be in the meyer Cafeteria, and is set for 7:30 p.m.

If a player or parent is unable to attend this next meeting, signups will still be continuing until March 22, the deadline. To sign the roster, either attend the meeting Monday or call Mrs. Frances Lynch, Mrs. Mary Laughinghouse or Albert Rowlett.

Tryouts will be held on schedule March 23, with a managers meeting on March 25.

Additionally, cards were mailed out recently for donations to help keep the little league program going in Hondo. Any donations are sincerely appreciated by the League. If you received a card, please return it promptly. If you did not, you are still invited to contribute.

D'HANIS BASEBALL

The D'Hanis Cowboys will be in Carrizo Springs this weekend to participate in the Carrizo Springs Invitational Baseball Tournament. First game is 10 a.m. Thursday.

Volleyballers down MV, Devine

By Rhonda Graff

Hondo's A and B teams won matches on March 5, defeating the Panthers of Medina Valley, according to Mrs. George Riddell, coach.

The B team won their matches 15-4 and 15-12.

Scoring for these two games was as follows: Nanny Tapia, 13 points; Aurora Morin, 10; Eva Escamilla, 4; Diane Gonzales, 2; and Karen Alexander, 1 point.

The A team continued the winning steak by downing the Panthers 15-10 and 15-4.

Scoring for the varsity were: Karen Reinartz, 10 points; Nancy Lange, 8; Sandy Garcia, 5; Tina Haby, 4; and Lucy Garcia, 3 points.

Players not scoring but doing a terrific job on defense were Teresa Winn and Glenda Raymond of the varsity.

The Jr. High team lost to the Panthers 3-15 and 8-15.

Scorers for the Jr. High were: Debbie Young, 3 points; Michele Pope, 2; Anna Reyes, 3; Rosalinda Gauna, 2; and Jo Stickney, 1 point.

The Jr. High team was competing against Medina Valley's second string B team.

B-teams followed the Jr. High action and Devine took the first of these 15-7. Hondo came back in the second and third contests by 15-12 scores.

And in the Varsity action Devine wiped out the Hondoans 15-3 in the first game. Hondo rallied in the second round to win 15-7. In the clincher, it was Hondo on top, 15-13 as Hondo won the series.

Today Medina Valley is in Hondo for Varsity and B-team action beginning at 5 p.m. in the High School gymnasium.

Rumor has it that Queen Elizabeth of England gambled, or rather didn't gamble, with loaded dice!

Golfers score two 2nd places

Hondo High School golfers had a busy weekend, taking two second places, both to Uvalde.

Friday it was at Uvalde Memorial Golf Course, where Hondo joined Uvalde, Crystal City, Utopia and Carrizo Springs in a tournament. In the strong winds, Hondo took second place.

Saturday the Owl players were in home territory for their own invitational tourney this time including Uvalde, Devine, Crystal City, Medina Valley, Pearsall, Hebbronville and Laredo United.

Uvalde again posted the winning score, a 317 total. Hondo was second at 323.

A tie resulted for third place when Devine and Crystal City posted identical 341's, and Medina Valley finished fifth at 346.

Hondo's Randall Hare shot a 75 to share medalist honors with Uvalde's Paul Bracher.

Saturday the Owls will be in Devine for another pre-district invitational.

The district meet, by the way, will be here in Hondo on March 25.

Texas cattle feeders stop buying feeder calves

AMARILLO -- Many Texas cattle feeders stopped buying feeder calves in February and some say they won't buy more until prices reach "workable" levels, according to the president of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

In assessing the current losses suffered by feeders and their outlook for the remainder of the year, Glenn Deen, TCFA president and a feedyard manager at Dumas, said most cattle now being marketed are losing $75 to $100 per head.

He called on his members this week to consider these facts:

Fact No. 1. Some economists predict that the price for fat cattle in 1974 will average $44.50, same as last year, which happens to be the approximate price this week. "We certainly can't expect fat cattle to average more than $44.50 this year," says Deen, "and some feeders expect less."

Fact No. 2. Grain sorghum prices, now $5.50 per cwt., have been climbing and may reach $5.95 before summer. "There is little chance of grain coming down in the next six months," says Deen, "which means that cost of gain in the feedlot will be about 55 cents per pound, including interest and death loss."

Fact No. 3. Simple arithmetic shows that to break even on a 600-lb. feeder calf, if it is to be taken to 1050 or 1100 lbs. for slaughter, it would have to be bought for $35 to $37 per cwt. "The cost of 600-lb. Choice feeder calves this week actually is $40 to $42," says Deen, "or $5 per cwt. higher than the breakeven."

"It's time for all cattle feeders to get realistic about the prices we're paying for feeder calves," warns Deen. "In the last two years, many of us have bet on the outcome by buying calves when they wouldn't pencil out. In many cases, we were bailed out by inflation and the consumer's willingness to pay more for beef. But this isn't likely to happen in 1974. We bumped the ceiling last month on retail beef prices, considering present economic conditions, and saw consumers back off."

Deen said he was not suggesting that any cattleman was making too much profit on feeder calves today; but that he was anxious for cattle feeders to get back into a profit position. "Otherwise, we're heading for a crash," he concluded, "which would be bad for cowmen, for feeders and for consumers alike."

The Texas Cattle Feeders Association, headquartered in Amarillo, represents most of the cattle feeders in the Lone Star State. They fed 4,412,000 head last year, making Texas the No. 1 cattle feeding state.

"Don't be afraid to ask dumb questions. They're easier to handle than dumb mistakes."—Lee R. Call, Star Valley (Wyo.) Call.

Texas cattle feeders stop buying feeder calves

AMARILLO -- Many Texas cattle feeders stopped buying feeder calves in February and some say they won't buy more until prices reach "workable" levels, according to the president of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

In assessing the current losses suffered by feeders and their outlook for the remainder of the year, Glenn Deen, TCFA president and a feedyard manager at Dumas, said most cattle now being marketed are losing $75 to $100 per head.

He called on his members this week to consider these facts:

Fact No. 1. Some economists predict that the price for fat cattle in 1974 will average $44.50, same as last year, which happens to be the approximate price this week. "We certainly can't expect fat cattle to average more than $44.50 this year," says Deen, "and some feeders expect less."

Fact No. 2. Grain sorghum prices, now $5.50 per cwt., have been climbing and may reach $5.95 before summer. "There is little chance of grain coming down in the next six months," says Deen, "which means that cost of gain in the feedlot will be about 55 cents per pound, including interest and death loss."

Fact No. 3. Simple arithmetic shows that to break even on a 600-lb. feeder calf, if it is to be taken to 1050 or 1100 lbs. for slaughter, it would have to be bought for $35 to $37 per cwt. "The cost of 600-lb. Choice feeder calves this week actually is $40 to $42," says Deen, "or $5 per cwt. higher than the breakeven."

"It's time for all cattle feeders to get realistic about the prices we're paying for feeder calves," warns Deen. "In the last two years, many of us have bet on the outcome by buying calves when they wouldn't pencil out. In many cases, we were bailed out by inflation and the consumer's willingness to pay more for beef. But this isn't likely to happen in 1974. We bumped the ceiling last month on retail beef prices, considering present economic conditions, and saw consumers back off."

Deen said he was not suggesting that any cattleman was making too much profit on feeder calves today; but that he was anxious for cattle feeders to get back into a profit position. "Otherwise, we're heading for a crash," he concluded, "which would be bad for cowmen, for feeders and for consumers alike."

The Texas Cattle Feeders Association, headquartered in Amarillo, represents most of the cattle feeders in the Lone Star State. They fed 4,412,000 head last year, making Texas the No. 1 cattle feeding state.
